1. Foreword

Some people know very early on what they want to do in life, while others are left wondering. Often, the profession we pursue or plan to pursue is determined by the circumstances and opportunities that come our way. Our working life is one of the main pillars of our existence. Educational and vocational guidance meets a crucial need, especially in an increasingly complex world of work.

Personality has a major influence on a pupil's or student's career path. Some of them need sound advice if they are to envisage their professional future with serenity and objectivity. To help someone find their way, it is essential to identify their personality and their strengths. Choosing a career path based on your personality, skills and affinities is a considerable psychological advantage, helping to boost your self-confidence and self-esteem.

If you're looking for guidance or a change of direction, this book will help you find your way. And if you already have a clear path, it will help you to confirm and broaden it.

2. Your profession according to your natal chart

Studying an astral chart¹ or a natal chart sheds light on the areas that inspire us and points us in the right direction. It highlights the areas of social and/or professional activity in which we are most predisposed and where we are most likely to flourish.

Every profession, especially highly specialised ones, has its own psychological profile. This book establishes a correlation between a person's natal chart and the professions that are in affinity with it.

Each star of the solar system is associated with certain specific aptitudes: the Moon with receptivity, the Sun with willpower and exemplarity, Mercury with curiosity and communication, Venus with affectivity and aesthetic sense, Mars with combativeness and dynamism, Jupiter with organisational skills, Saturn with rigour and patience, Uranus with innovation and discovery, Neptune with intuition and premonition, Pluto with research and investigation.

The sun sign at birth is the main indicator and gives the general direction. It symbolises the field of energy used to develop our personal radiance, make our choices and fulfil our destiny. Our path to fulfilment runs through the energies of the sign occupied by the Sun. It is our inner guide, our life force and indicates where we are heading.

Depending on the direction indicated by your Sun sign, your professional profile will be defined by taking into account the other dominant signs in your natal chart.

First, you need to determine the dominant signs in your natal chart. To do this, fill in the table below. It takes into account this principle in astrology: the more planets there are in a sign, the more that sign is valued and the more it should be taken into account when determining your professional profile.

In this table, each planet (and the ascendant) is assigned a certain number of points. The sign of the Ascendant is one of the most important signs in a natal chart, which is why we give it 5 points.

For the planets, we apply the following principle: the faster they move, the more important they are in a natal chart. We give 3 points to the Moon, then two points to the slower-moving Mercury, Venus and Mars, and one point to the slow-moving planets Jupiter and Saturn.

¹ Reading this book assumes that you have a drawing of your natal chart, and that you know the names of the planets and astrological signs. If this is not the case, several websites offer to draw your natal chart free of charge. They will provide you with all the positions of your planets in signs and houses, as well as the aspects between planets.

If you don't have your natal chart, consider the sign of your Ascendant as a dominant sign. The result of this analysis, which only takes into account your Sun sign and Ascendant sign, will be less precise, but will nonetheless provide clues about careers that might suit you.

Chapter 7, entitled "Astrology Glossary", provides detailed definitions of the various terms used in astrology: zodiac, ascendant, planets, signs, houses and aspects between the planets.

Complete the following table:

Sign →	♈	♉	♊	♋	♌	♍	♎	♏	♐	♑	♒	♓
1) Allocate 5 points to your Ascendant sign (AS)
2) Allocate 3 points to the sign occupied by your Moon ☾
3) Allocate 2 points to the sign occupied by Mercury ☿
4) Give 2 points to the sign occupied by Venus ♀
5) Give 2 points to the sign occupied by Mars ♂
6) Allocate 1 point to the sign occupied by Jupiter ♃
7) Allocate 1 point to the sign occupied by Saturn ♄
8) Total points for each sign

Total the points for each sign and write the result in line 8) (last line of the table).

Nota:

♈=The sign of Aries, ♉=The sign of Taurus, ♊=The sign of Gemini, ♋=The sign of Cancer

♌=The sign of Leo, ♍=The sign of Virgo, ♎=The sign of Libra, ♏=The sign of Scorpio

♐=Sign of Sagittarius, ♑=Sign of Capricorn, ♒=Sign of Aquarius, ♓=Sign of Pisces

On line 8) find the two signs with the most points and write their names in the table below:²

First dominant sign
Second dominant sign

Next, turn to the chapter corresponding to your Sun sign and note down the occupations associated with one or two of your dominant signs. These are probably the most appropriate for you, or could provide you with leads for further research.

Important notes:

-If one or more of the planets in your natal chart is in the 6th house, refer to Chapter 4, which gives an indication of the challenges you face at work, or in relation to your colleagues, superiors or employees.

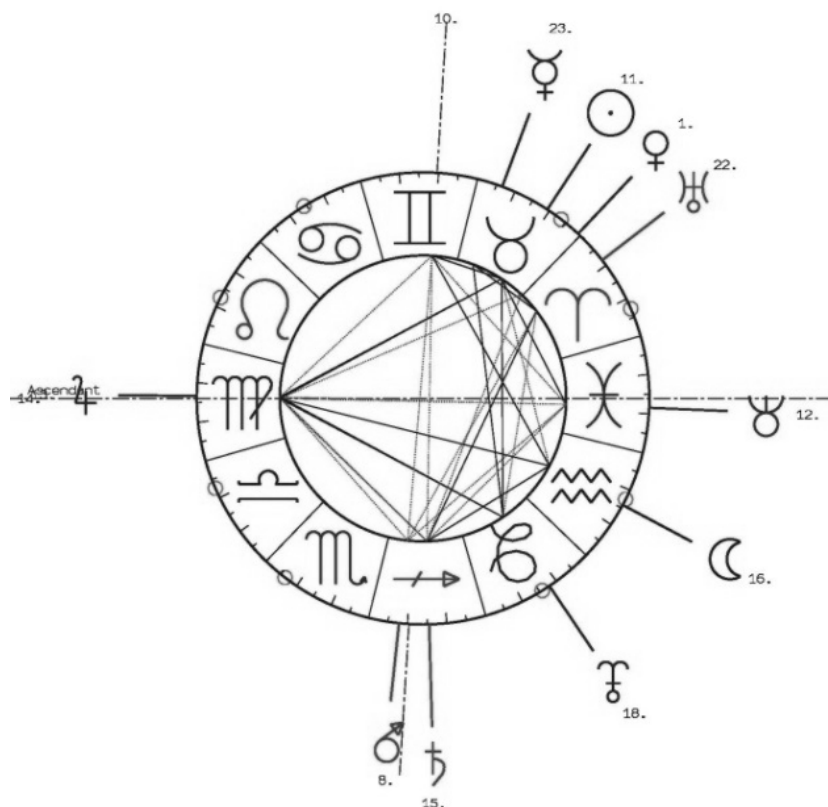

-If one or more planets in your natal chart are in the 10th house, consult chapter 3, which gives advice on how to succeed, climb the ladder or meet society's expectations.

-If you have planets in aspect in your natal chart, refer to Chapter 5. There you'll find advice on how to overcome conflicts that could stand in the way of your success.

² If you have some knowledge of astrology, you can refine these results as follows: add 2 points to the sign if its ruler is close to the Ascendant, 2 points to the sign if its ruler is close to the Midheaven (MC), 2 points to the sign if its ruler is close to the ruler of the Ascendant, 1 point to the sign if its ruler is in aspect with one or more planets, 1 point to the sign if the house in affinity with this sign is occupied by one or more planets.

Example:

To make it easier for you to understand how to use the dominant sign tables, here's an example: this is Leo's natal chart.

Leo's Sun sign is Taurus. His Ascendant is in the sign of Virgo (we attribute 5 points to the sign of Virgo). The Moon is in the sign of Aquarius (we attribute 3 points to the sign of Aquarius), Mars is in the sign of Sagittarius (we attribute 2 points to the sign of Sagittarius), Mercury is in the sign of Taurus (we attribute 2 points to the sign of Taurus), Venus is in the sign of Taurus (we add 2 points to the sign of Taurus). Jupiter is in the sign of Virgo (we add 1 point to the sign of Virgo). Saturn is in the sign of Sagittarius (we add 1 point to the sign of Sagittarius).

This gives the following table:

Sign →	♈	♉	♊	♋	♌	♍	♎	♏	♐	♑	♒	♓
1) Allocate 5 points to your Ascendant sign (AS)						5
2) Allocate 3 points to the sign occupied by your Moon ☾											3
3) Allocate 2 points to the sign occupied by Mercury ☿		2
4) Give 2 points to the sign occupied by Venus ♀		2
5) Give 2 points to the sign occupied by Mars ♂								2
6) Allocate 1 point to the sign occupied by Jupiter ♃						1
7) Allocate 1 point to the sign occupied by Saturn ♄								1
8) Total points for each sign		4				6			3		3

Add up the points for each sign and enter the result in line 8) (last line of the table). Next, identify the two signs with the most points on the same line and enter their names in the table below:

2.11 You were born under the sign of Aquarius

The Sun-Verseau type is capable of happily forgetting himself in order to fraternise with others, appreciating contact and intellectual exchange. Forward-looking, they instinctively reject tradition and convention. A lover of freedom, their need for independence is predominant. Paradoxically, they also enjoy human contact and meeting other people. Nothing is more exciting to him than helping them to free themselves from obsolete ideas, methods or traditional patterns. Everything that is new, different and avant-garde attracts him. He generally hates routine and adapts very well to change. They are productive when given a degree of autonomy. A non-conformist, he attracts friends interested in his innovative ideas.

2.12 You were born under the sign of Pisces

The Sun-Pisces type takes a genuine interest in the well-being of others. They easily perceive the doubts of those around them. They are sensitive to what others think of them and how they feel about them. His inner equilibrium depends on good relations of trust and affection with those around him. He is not always in control of the fluctuations of euphoria and sadness that plunge him into an irrational and inexplicable serenity, or that lead him to excesses of despair that are just as incomprehensible, passing from one to the other of these states without any apparent reason or transition. Faced with so many possibilities, temptations and interests, they are sometimes at a loss as to which path to follow. In touch with the invisible and the unspeakable, what's important to him is not so much what he is, but his connection to the world. Humble, discreet and detached, he prefers to put his modest self at the service of something greater and more universal.

3. What does success mean to you?

If you have planets in the 10th House, think about what success means to you. Ask yourself all the questions you need to have a clear idea of your objective.

Sun in Aries in 10th House:

You enjoy challenges and confrontation. Your fighting spirit and initiative will propel you to the top of the ladder of success. Seize your opportunities and take on a leadership role within the company.

Sun in Taurus in 10th House:

You're aware that nothing happens without effort: only hard work and professional loyalty will get you to the top. To achieve your ambitions, persevere. Set yourself very long-term goals, and base your approach to achieving them on realistic and practical considerations. Consistent effort produces tangible results. So stay true to your chosen path. However, if you feel that a change is necessary, don't stubbornly go down a blind alley; show the courage to redirect yourself.

Personal development:

- Give yourself time to succeed.
- Progress slowly but surely.
- Anticipate change rather than fear it.

Sun in Gemini in 10th House:

Make sure that your adaptability and versatility are not interpreted as a lack of seriousness. What's more, excessive adaptability can lead to instability. To avoid losing focus and achieve your goals, don't get distracted and set yourself priorities. It's difficult to succeed when there are too many interests.

You'll succeed thanks to your know-how and ingenuity. Learn from your experiences to add depth and gravitas to your image. You will be expected to be flexible enough to respond quickly to the intellectual needs of your community, and to use common sense and objectivity to solve complex social problems.

Sun in Cancer in 10th House:

Before committing yourself to social climbing, take the time to assess your real security needs and consider more realistic goals in line with your true abilities. Take stock of your strengths and free yourself from the influence of negative emotional reactions. By revisiting your past, you'll be in a better position to free yourself from these emotions and from certain links from the past that may be holding you back.

As you rise through the ranks, let your skills mature before moving up to a more senior position, while preserving your social standing. Make the most of your imagination and sensitivity, two key elements for success.

Don't chalk up your successes to chance, but recognise your own performance and skills. If someone congratulates you, don't play down your success by arguing that anyone else could have achieved it in the same way.

Sun in Leo in 10th House:

Your chances of success are higher than those of people born under another sign of the zodiac. You excel at making the most of every circumstance. Don't hesitate to set yourself real challenges in order to achieve the goals that are close to your heart. Your will to succeed must be channelled in order to fulfil your true vocation, which will become the central axis of your life. You aspire to success that matches your boundless energy and creative potential.

Personal development:

-Leo is brilliant and generous. So keep shining brightly so you stay in the hearts of those who admire you and seek out your strength.

Sun in Virgo in 10th House:

To achieve your goals (House 10), it's essential that you confront your feelings of inferiority (sign of Virgo), as these can limit and hinder your ambitions. Although you're efficient and conscientious, it's important not to stagnate and to take risks. Don't hesitate to highlight your skills. Don't settle for a situation that doesn't reflect your true worth. Aspire to more. To guarantee your progress, don't rely solely on the belief that your hard work and dedication are enough. You think that by achieving perfection you will eventually be rewarded. However, others don't know that you're expecting a reward and, after all, no one is demanding perfection from you.

Sun in Libra in 10th House:

Meetings are the key to your success. You triumph thanks to your charm and your ability to forge alliances. Your diplomatic nature enables you to succeed where others fail. You are appreciated for your elegance and natural ease. Your feelings and your innate sense of balance and fair distribution guide your choices.

Personal development:

- Choose a just cause, because your commitment to it will be total.
- Learn to say no so that you are not at the mercy of circumstances or events.
- Give less importance to what others think of you.
- Accept the fact that you can't please everyone. If you are constantly trying to please everyone, you risk not reaching the pinnacle of success.
- Say no when necessary to avoid compromising your principles or following a life path that doesn't suit you.
- Remain firm in your positions. If you hesitate, take this as an indication that you need to think about the issue further.

Sun in Scorpio in 10th House:

Are you using your insight to gain power? What intrigues are damaging your reputation? Do you take into account the opinions of others and the expectations of society? What does success really mean to you? Do negative thoughts prevent you from achieving your goals?

Personal development:

- To be on the right track, clearly define what is essential for you. Set your goals carefully and examine your true intentions.
- To position yourself optimally in the company, assess your real creative abilities.
- To respond effectively to the expectations of others, examine your mistakes and shortcomings lucidly. Acknowledge them, take responsibility for them and let go.
- Say no to manipulation, because it's an obstacle to your success.
- Beware of intrigues, they damage your reputation. Keep confidential what should not be heard by everyone.

Sun in Sagittarius in 10th House:

To succeed, you need a clear guideline and an exciting goal to achieve (10th House). Your surest guide is your moral strength (Sagittarius). When you feel that success is within your grasp, you show off your skills. In general, you make a good impression. Your presence is warm and you inspire confidence spontaneously thanks to your ease, relaxed manner and self-assurance. Others naturally sympathise, protect and favour you, making it easier to succeed. Even in conflict situations, you bounce back with ease.

Personal development:

- Make sure you don't rest on your laurels or succumb to the easy way out.
- To strengthen your reputation, emphasise your honesty and openness.
- Get involved in the great causes that are close to your heart, whether by leading a crusade or defending them in the public arena.

Sun in Capricorn in 10th House:

Generally, you climb the social ladder (House 10) when you're ready to deploy your forces with constancy and determination (sign of Capricorn). You're not made for quick, fleeting success, but for delayed, lasting achievement. What counts for you is the distant goal to be reached. Your strength lies in your seriousness, integrity and sense of responsibility.

Personal development:

- Take the time to look calmly at what you are really capable of achieving, and assess in concrete terms how far you need to go to achieve lasting stability.
- Set yourself a goal and you'll reach it thanks to your ambition.
- Strive to be indispensable and you'll be recognised as someone you can trust.

-To get an excellent appraisal, don't hesitate to ask your management regularly what they expect from you.

Sun in Aquarius in 10th House:

It's not so much the quest for great success or a brilliant career that motivates you, but rather the search for a professional experience that's as enriching, lively and human as possible. You are called upon (House 10) to defend humanitarian causes or to work altruistically for the common good (sign of Aquarius). You feel the need to change things, to renovate society, to change the rules that you consider unsuitable, to encourage the breaking down of barriers between different communities. You see this as a necessity.

Unconcerned with convention and indifferent to material contingencies, you are constantly renewing yourself. So you'll be called upon to innovate, to come up with simple answers to the most complex situations. Success is fully realised when you are given wide freedom of action. Touched by the problems of humanity as a whole, you successfully defend the most just causes. Aware very early on of a social malaise, you openly display your original convictions, ahead of your time. Your ideals sketch out the humanity of tomorrow.

Sun in Pisces in 10th House:

Faced with so many possibilities, temptations and interests, you may not know which path to choose. Are you letting yourself be drawn into situations that you don't really want? Are you content to dream about your ideals without realising them or living them to the full?

Personal development:

It's essential to find the right path. Determine concretely what you are prepared to sacrifice, without compromising your integrity. Don't give too much importance to impressions that overwhelm you. Concentrate on what you can control, distance yourself from people who are devoid of morality and abandon areas that elude you and are not promising.

To avoid an unstable destiny, establish realistic points of reference that can bring stability and direction to your life.

Make sure you complete the projects you've started.

To be socially fulfilled, work in line with the expectations of your community or as broad a community as possible. Swim with the current. Wait for those providential moments (sign of Pisces) that will bring you to the summit of your destiny (House 10). You'll succeed where most fail.

Moon in 10th House:

It is advisable to wait until your skills have matured before aiming for a more senior position. Once you've done that, do everything you can to maintain your social position.

"I use my imagination to succeed."

"I make sure that the job I'm offered offers security".

"I keep in touch with the needs of my time."

Mercury in 10th House

Take the time to think about what success means to you. Look for ingenious solutions to reach a higher position. Your success will come from your intelligence and know-how. You are expected to be flexible enough to respond quickly to the intellectual needs of your community, and intellectually objective enough to solve complex social problems.

"I cultivate innovative ideas to succeed".

"I'm directing my thoughts towards victory".

Venus in 10th house

You achieve success through your charm. You are expected to bring harmony and beauty to society. Make the most of your kindness and conciliatory spirit, as they are invaluable assets when it comes to achieving your goals. Build a life project or a professional project that is artistic and creative, something that is particularly close to your heart.

Mars in 10th House

A strong, virile commitment is needed at work. Fight to succeed and vigorously defend your role within the company. Initiative is essential for professional success. Competition can be an excellent way to channel your aggression. However, a negative interpretation of Mars could make you ruthless. Too much rivalry could damage your reputation.

"I'm fighting for success".

Jupiter in 10th House

"I believe in success"

With Jupiter in the Tenth House, you tend to regard a good career, a good situation and social success as the highest goals you can achieve.

Personal development:

- Use the presence of Jupiter in this house to give your life goals or your social role a deeper meaning than mere ambition or performance.
- Develop your confidence in life by contributing effectively to the smooth running of your company and broadening your interest in professional issues.
- Use power and prestige for constructive purposes.

Saturn in 10th House

With Saturn in the tenth house, it is essential to evaluate your true objectives in concrete terms and to consolidate your social position. You are very concerned about your ambitions, your role in society and what you represent as an individual in the social context.

Personal development:

- Clearly define your ambitions and determine what they really mean to you.
- Identify and integrate your real objectives.
- Free yourself from unpleasant obligations and responsibilities.

"I'm assessing my ambitions

"I'm consolidating my social position

Uranus in 10th House

When it comes to your career, you're drawn to innovative, original or avant-garde professions. Your career path is marked by sudden changes, ruptures or unexpected reorientations. You may also be a pioneer or reformer in your field, bringing new ideas and significant changes. As far as ambitions and honours are concerned, you need to stand out from the crowd and be recognised for your unique and innovative achievements. You seek honours or distinctions that highlight your originality and independence of spirit. As far as reputation is concerned, you are perceived as an unconventional and non-conformist individual. This can attract both admiration and criticism, depending on how others react to your originality.

Neptune in 10th House

With Neptune in 10th House, you can have a very creative, idealistic and spiritual approach to your career and ambitions. You could be drawn to professions that involve helping others, inspiration, art, spirituality or service. You may have a strong desire to use your talents and skills to make a positive difference in the world and to contribute to the well-being of society as a whole.

However, this position of Neptune can also make you vulnerable to confusion, illusions or disillusionment in the areas of career and ambitions. You may tend to idealise certain goals or expectations, which can sometimes lead to disappointment or misunderstandings when reality doesn't match your aspirations. You may also find it difficult to establish clear boundaries between your professional and personal life, which can lead to imbalance or emotional exhaustion.

Pluto in 10th house

With Pluto in the 10th House, you may be attracted to careers or positions that involve issues of power, control and transformation. This could include fields such as psychology, medicine, finance, politics, research, investigation or crisis management. You may have an intense desire to succeed and rise to the top of your professional field, often with a remarkable ability to overcome obstacles and challenges.

This Pluto position can also indicate a strong ability to bring about profound and lasting change in the professional and social sphere, by uncovering hidden power dynamics and using them to transform and improve existing structures. You can be seen as a powerful and transformative authority figure, capable of reshaping your professional and social environment through your work and influence.

However, this position of Pluto can also lead you to face challenges and crises linked to your career, your reputation and your social position. You may be confronted with situations that force you to question your ambitions and transform yourself in response to the challenges and crises of professional life. You may also encounter problems related to power, control and manipulation, both in relation to your own actions and to the actions of others towards you.

To succeed in the area of life represented by House 10, you must learn to embrace Pluto's profound and transformative qualities and use them to bring about positive and lasting changes in your career and social position. You must develop a deep understanding of your motivations, desires and fears related to power and success, and be prepared to transform and regenerate yourself in response to the challenges and crises of professional life. In addition, you must learn to navigate issues of power and control with discernment and balance, recognising that true strength lies in the ability to share, support and transform each other rather than in dominating or manipulating others.

4. Your behaviour in the workplace?

If you have planets in 6th House, ask yourself this question:

What challenge(s) do I face in the workplace?

Are my colleagues satisfied with my performance? What do my colleagues and management expect of me?

By reading the chapter(s) of the planets in your 6th House that concern you, you'll be able to get answers to your questions.

Sun in Aries in 6th House:

On the work front, you have no trouble getting going. But your pace of action is very uneven. You're quick to complete any difficult task, even when you're accelerating feverishly. Your way of working is inspired more by intuition, by the opportunity that presents itself, than conceived according to a truly methodical plan. It's not a team player. And yet you have no taste for solitary work. You need to cooperate, but you see yourself as a worker on the fringes of the community. As you watch others progress, you find yourself dragged along in spite of yourself while trying to get ahead of them. In terms of quality of work, you're not the person to entrust with the details of an operation. You have neither the taste nor the care for it; you prefer close-ups of the action. The need to innovate and take the initiative is paramount. Your speed enables you to respond immediately to a technical problem. This quality does not, however, allow you to have the patience to restrict yourself to a single discipline. With your superiors you can sometimes be offhand and rebellious. On the other hand, if you feel well supervised by bosses who esteem you and whom you appreciate, you are capable of astonishing zeal. When dealing with subordinates, you are direct and brutally frank or authoritarian. You do not tolerate your subordinates contradicting you.

Personal development:

-Make sure that no injustice is done in your department because of your sympathies and antipathies, which are often unreasonable.

Sun in Taurus in 6th House:

You're not one of those people who get up and running quickly and easily at work. But once you get going, you don't shy away from the sheer scale of the tasks ahead.

You don't have a flair for detail. That's why you have problems when you're asked to perfect a task. But nevertheless, you love your job, and you do it with perseverance.

Your way of working is fairly simple, but over time you develop a methodical way of organising your work. You find it easy to fit in with your colleagues, because you're a team player who likes to help out.

With your superiors, you are respectful and perfectly disciplined, provided, however, that you don't feel exploited. For you more than anyone else, money is the ideal reward for hard work, the indispensable psychological sesame.

Sun in Gemini in 6th House:

Your major assets for success in your job are your flexibility, your natural ability to organise yourself according to circumstances and to quickly grasp the complexities of a job. A job where you're on the move, where there's a lively atmosphere, stimulates you. You have all the qualities needed to work as part of a team, such as easy contact, camaraderie, understanding and eloquence. Being assertive is not one of your main qualities. Your skills lie elsewhere, for example in the art of writing a report or setting the wheels of a company in motion. You'll perform best in an instructor or consultant role.

Personal development:

- Choose a job that does not require you to work fixed hours. This choice will also take into account the limits of your capacity for endurance and resistance to fatigue.
- Make sure you don't spread yourself too thin. Set yourself priorities every day. Make lists of all the things you need to do, according to their urgency. Group certain activities together and write everything down in a notebook (addresses, contacts, etc.).
- Not very persevering, don't let yourself get distracted by time-consuming tasks.

Sun in Cancer in 6th House:

At work, you're particularly good at what you've always been good at. You give the best of yourself when you work in a warm, almost family atmosphere. But be careful not to confuse the company with your family. As long as you have not acquired your autonomy in relation to the family context, you will have a tendency to unconsciously recreate with your colleagues the problematic relationships you had with the members of your family.

Personal development:

- Choose a job that respects your sensitivity and indolence.
- Make sure you keep your professional life separate from your personal life. It's important to maintain a certain degree of professionalism at work.
- Try to resolve family problems that may be reflected in your professional relationships.
- Don't hesitate to broaden your horizons and learn new skills to avoid getting stuck in what you've always known how to do.

Sun in Leo in 6th House:

You're naturally destined to take on a leadership role. You work so hard that you even risk exhausting those who work with you. Your main qualities are your leadership: the ability to inspire and motivate others, a keen sense of discipline and organisation, and a firm awareness of your responsibilities. Prepare yourself to occupy a central position.

Personal development:

- Cultivate your leadership skills. This includes communicating effectively, motivating others and guiding them towards achieving goals.
- Learn to manage your energy and distribute it in a balanced way, to avoid exhausting your colleagues or subordinates.

-Don't lose sight of the importance of listening to others and respecting their contributions. A good leader recognises and values the work of others.

Sun in Virgo in 6th House:

You're an exceptional worker. Perfectionist and efficient, you have a great passion for your job and for a job well done. Your satisfaction is at its peak when you complete a task correctly. The certainty of a job well done soothes your anxiety and fear of being judged. Your feeling of inferiority or your fear of making mistakes pushes you to be more and more meticulous. This motivation is the key to your success.

Personal development:

- Learn to delegate.
- Plan your work.
- Set yourself deadlines.
- Ask your staff and management what they expect from you.
- Congratulate your subordinates. Encourage them and help them to give their best and discover their abilities.

Sun in Libra in 6th House:

Your main preoccupation is the world of work and service. It's not so much the work itself that interests you, but rather the relationships that exist between you and your colleagues or associates. You have a gift for integrating yourself into your company, and you're an ideal partner or colleague. You don't have the desire to impose yourself or the ability to inspire others to action. You lack the drive to fight. You prefer the path of conciliation. You seek everyone's agreement and give orders gently.

Personal development:

- If you want to be as successful as possible, don't go where you have to conquer or fight.
- You are not destined to build, but to help situations evolve. Your natural role is not to lay the first stones, but to perfect the edifice.
- Accept that you will never be able to satisfy everyone.

Sun in Scorpio in 6th House:

You channel your powerful creative force into your work (sign of Scorpio in the 6th House), which produces exceptional results. You prefer to do things your own way, but make sure this doesn't damage the team spirit. Your colleagues may see you as a little uncomfortable, but they appreciate your sense of responsibility and creativity.

Personal development:

-Look for a job without too many constraints from management.

In the event of a crisis, take an in-depth look at your shortcomings and angry behaviour.

-If you feel you are being harassed or manipulated, don't hesitate to talk about it with others. Discuss the situation with your colleagues.

Sun in Sagittarius in 6th House:

At work (House 6), you are appreciated for your enthusiasm, generosity and optimism. You thrive in a pleasant atmosphere. Your organisational skills and your talents as a coordinator are the assets you need to put forward in order to be offered a job that really suits you (sign of Sagittarius).

Personal development:

-Continue to develop your organisational and coordination skills. These talents are invaluable and can open new professional doors.

-Nurture your enthusiasm and optimism. These traits contribute to a positive working environment and are appreciated by your colleagues and superiors.

-Look for opportunities for continual growth and learning. Sagittarius is a sign that is always searching for truth and knowledge. Use this energy to push yourself to continue educating and improving yourself.

-Be aware of your need for freedom and independence. Try to find a balance between your desire for freedom and the demands of your job.

-Finally, never lose sight of your values and what's important to you. Professional success is important, but it must always be in line with your personal values.

Sun in Capricorn in 6th House:

At work (House 6), you'll get off to a slow start and get going gradually: you'll need some time to adapt. However, your resistance to fatigue gives you regularity in your efforts. Even if your immediate effectiveness is often put to the test, your perseverance produces excellent results in the long run. Your consistency is exemplary: you arrive on time and are assiduous at your post, which you leave only in the event of force majeure. Once in place, you organise yourself patiently and get the best results by following a method that leaves no room for improvisation, instinct or arbitrariness (sign of Capricorn).

Personal development:

-Plan your work and progress slowly but surely. Make a list of tasks that take time and energy and that you find tedious most of the time. When you feel overloaded, select the tasks you want to delegate. A lighter workload will seem easier to manage.

-Ask your staff and management what they expect from you.

Sun in Aquarius in 6th House:

With a strong sense of social justice and cooperation, you are well suited to working as part of a team, despite your inherently independent nature. You understand the interests of others and are able to align your personal ambitions with the collective interests of the company.

Personal development:

- Your full potential at work (House 6) can only be achieved if you are given a great deal of freedom to act (sign of Aquarius).
- As an Aquarian, you're naturally innovative. Apply this strength to your workplace by encouraging new ideas and approaches. Not only will it help you feel more engaged and stimulated, but it could also be of great benefit to your business or team.
- Aquarius is a sociable sign that values community ties. Invest time and energy in building strong relationships with your colleagues. This can help you feel more connected and satisfied with your work.

Sun in Pisces in 6th House:

You may sometimes find it difficult to complete the tasks you've started. This tendency not to follow through on your commitments may be a form of avoidance of reality (characteristic of the sign of Pisces). By not finishing a project, you maintain the illusion that all possibilities remain open. It's also a way of protecting yourself from possible disappointment and avoiding confronting your true abilities.

Personal development:

- Learn to clearly identify the tasks that fall to you. This will help you avoid feeling overwhelmed and abandoning certain projects, which could undermine your efficiency.
- Classify your projects and select those that best match your skills. Then try to break these projects down into manageable stages. What is the nature of the project? What steps are needed to complete it? How long will they take? Don't hesitate to use a calendar or planning tool to track your progress and measure the obstacles you've already overcome. Organising your time is a key skill to develop to increase your efficiency.

However, this position of Pluto can also expose you to challenges and transformations in your professional life. You may find it difficult to balance your desire for control with the need to adapt to the changes and demands of your work and daily life. You may be perceived as obsessive, perfectionist or controlling in your work.

Personal development:

- Learn to integrate Pluto's profound and transformative qualities with a more flexible and open approach to work, service and health. You should seek to develop a deep understanding of your motivations, desires and fears related to work, and be prepared to let go and transform yourself to better adapt to changes and challenges in these areas.
- Learn to navigate issues of power and control in your professional environment and daily routines with balance and discernment, recognising that true strength lies in your ability to listen, adapt and transform rather than in dominating or manipulating others.

5. How do you overcome certain conflicts?

Aspects reflect the interactions between different forces or tendencies within our psyche. Some of these interactions can get in the way of our success. In order to reduce and eventually eliminate these negative manifestations, our consciousness must recognise the challenges created by this inner tension and our mind must develop new behavioural strategies.

In your natal chart, Pluto is in aspect to the Sun

Are you worried that your professional success could be jeopardised by gloomy prospects? Are you afraid of making mistakes or failing?

If so:

- Be able to stay the course in crisis situations.
- When the path you're on no longer suits you, consider a more authentic existence and discover your true goals.
- Go back to the source of your true desires. Part of you will resist this approach, but by remaining open and receptive, you'll find a simple solution to satisfy the part of you that had objections.

In your natal chart, Neptune is in aspect to the Sun

Do you lack reference points? Do you run away from reality and get lost in utopian ideals? Are you sometimes deluded and easily deceived? Do you find it hard to define your goals or ambitions clearly and precisely?

Or do you refuse to face the truth? Do you find it hard to see things objectively? Do you cling to false hopes? Do you underestimate what you are capable of doing?

If so:

- Find out where the right path is.
- Clearly define what you want and where you want to go in the long term. It's essential to know where you're going, what you want and where you're headed. (You can't reach a destination if you don't know where you're going). When you lose focus, remind yourself of your objective: What do I really have to do? What is the most important thing for me to do? - Concentrate on what you can control.
- Let go of the things that elude you.
- Remain firmly attached to your intentions.
- Be prepared to sacrifice certainties in the name of divine providence.

In your natal chart, Uranus is in aspect to the Sun

Is your need for independence so strong that you cannot tolerate constraints or any form of authority? Do you let no-one stand between you and your goals? Do you find it hard to stay on a set path because of your constant need for new stimuli and your aversion to routine?

Or are you afraid of taking a bolder path, while putting off making the big changes that are needed? Do you resist change?

If so:

Link what you want to change to positive results, beneficial spin-offs and a great deal of satisfaction.

-A real decision rules out all other possibilities. When a decision is obvious, convince yourself that it has to be made. Decide quickly and act. And if you feel fear, simply acknowledging that change is inevitable will ease your mind.

-Don't rule out the possibility of failure when making changes. If you fail, analyse the reasons and try something different.

-Make a list of all the changes you've already experienced, the gains and losses you've made, and describe the fears that have destabilised you. Then think about how you overcame these obstacles.

-Imagine the foreseeable changes to come and identify what you can do to make these changes as smooth as possible.

In your natal chart, Saturn is in aspect to the Sun

Do you find it difficult to relax and feel happy without guilt? Is your sense of responsibility greater than average, or even excessive?

Or, on the contrary, are you acutely aware of your limitations and shortcomings, to the point of underestimating yourself and feeling uninteresting? Is your creativity blocked and your ambition lacking?

If so:

Analyse your lack of self-confidence and your lack of willpower. This effort will enable you to acquire greater personal control. Be aware of your achievements and rejoice in your successes and the projects you have completed. Write them down. If your confidence wavers, remind yourself of these successes to stay positive.

Take an in-depth look at what you're really capable of achieving, and concretely assess how far you still have to go to achieve lasting stability. Stay focused on your goal, stay the course with confidence, and your efforts will be amply rewarded. -Identify what you lack or have too much of in your life. Any feeling of discomfort is a signal to take action while remaining focused on your goal. Once you've identified the signs that you've reached your limits (such as lateness, forgetfulness, distractions, loss, clutter, nervousness, etc.), find a balance between periods of activity and periods of rest.

In your natal chart, Jupiter is in aspect to the Sun

Is your need to be admired excessive? Do you reject all reasonable standards, all consistency in your achievements, all imperative social obligations? Do you feel that the slightest concession, whether opportune or necessary, is contrary to your dignity? Polarised by your principles and noble ideals, do you seek to follow a path strewn with praise, respect and consideration, imposing yourself as if your skills were so obvious that they could do without confrontation with the facts?

Or do you blindly conform to the laws and rules of society? Do you have a pressing need to flaunt your status without concern for distinction, to the point of forgetting your principles and ideals, as well as the goal you've set yourself? Does the façade of respectability that you insist on maintaining drive you to overestimate yourself to the point of committing yourself to undertakings that are beyond you?

If so:

-Be aware of your exaggerated need to conform to morality. Don't give so much importance to your principles. Moderate your ambitions, keep a sense of proportion and know how to impose yourself without making waves, by being more realistic, even in the most euphoric moments.

-Your sense of opportunity and hierarchy can make you a reliable point of reference, provided you are familiar with the codes, laws and regulations that structure and cement social life.

-If you can't judge correctly when the bluster starts, rely on trusted friends who respect you and will discreetly tell you when your theatricality starts. Ask yourself whether the benefits of your sense of derision outweigh the risks. If the answer is no, identify the situations in which these risks exist.

In your natal chart, Mars is in aspect to the Sun

Do you claim a freedom of action that does not tolerate any authority, a way of acting that ignores the laws, norms and models in force? Do you react with anger out of lack of confidence, fear of reproach or fear of humiliating failure? Do you overestimate your skills or venture into undertakings beyond your abilities?

Or do you fear the inevitable confrontations and underestimate your real abilities? Do you admit defeat beforehand and give up when faced with objectives that require firmness and courage? Does your obsession with correctness or your concern for fame and reputation prevent you from expressing your natural impulses and your anger?

If so:

-Fight to achieve your goals, fight the battles you consider essential, and put all your energy into achieving your objectives, without fear of rivalry or power struggles.

-Remain firm in your positions but be aware of actions that could compromise the achievement of your objectives.

-Exercise your authority only when it is really necessary and when you feel capable of doing so, after taking everyone's aspirations into account. If your reasons seem legitimate and your position and responsibilities justify them, your authority will naturally impose itself.

-Operate in life with firmness and courage, but also with lucidity. Remain firm in your choices and give yourself all the means necessary to achieve your goals.

-Avoid wasting energy unnecessarily.

In your natal chart, the Moon is in aspect to the Sun

Are you following a path that doesn't satisfy your private life? Is your quest for recognition cutting you off from everything that can nourish your soul?

Or is your exclusive devotion to your need for security and intimacy preventing you from maintaining sustained concentration and achieving your goals? Are you too comfortable in your reassuring intimacy (as in the family environment, for example), anxious at the idea of stepping out of your comfort zone, and do you shy away from moments when you need to formulate clear objectives? When you let your emotions overwhelm you, do you give too much importance to things that are ultimately relative? Do you change direction quickly in response to an emotion or mood, without really realising the reality of the change? Does your destiny depend on your state of mind?

If so:

-You'll rediscover inner calm by sacrificing certainties or any desire to appear in favour of the full blossoming of your soul. Or by sacrificing a little of your comfortable intimacy to realise your latent goals and chart your course or destiny with greater lucidity. Bear in mind that the balance between your private life and your professional or public life is essential to your overall well-being.

-Think about your emotions and how they can influence your judgement. It can be helpful to write down your emotions and reactions to understand the patterns that may be preventing you from achieving your goals.

-Be aware of the times when you feel particularly emotional, and try not to make major decisions during these periods. Sometimes taking a step back can help you see the situation more objectively.

In your natal chart, Pluto is in aspect to Mercury

Do you find it difficult to communicate because you are constantly immersed in your own questions? Or are your opinions so obsessive that you can't be bothered to examine them critically?

If so:

-Dig deep inside yourself to better understand your motivations and find answers to your real needs.

-Explore your opinions and certainties in depth, to eliminate those that are counterproductive.

-Keep a close watch on your thoughts, and the hidden meaning of some of them will be revealed to your conscience, freeing you from what is tormenting or obsessing you.

-Examine your ideas critically. Question your theories. Analyse your reasoning. Seek the advice of others whenever possible and remain open to their responses.

-Deepen your thoughts, purify your knowledge.

In your natal chart, Neptune is in aspect to Mercury

Are you captivated by the inexplicable phenomena and revelations of your unconscious? Without reliable reference points or a compass, you're lost and ignoring the signals of the collective unconscious.

Or do you let yourself be carried away by the whirlwinds of the unspeakable and its dizziness? Are you constantly in another dimension, somewhere else, losing all ability to listen? Do you prefer the exhilaration of senseless experiences and shun rational interpretations of this world? Do you find it difficult to translate your subtle perceptions, inspirations and intuitions clearly? Do you get lost in your chaotic thoughts, believing what suits you and ignoring the facts or opinions expressed by others, making your intellectual life uncertain, tumultuous and elusive?

If so:

- Be clear in your communications. Make sure that the person you are talking to understands what you want to say. Take their opinions into account.
- Concentrate to organise your thoughts better.
- Adopt a more universal intellectual approach to access more complete knowledge.
- Let your certainties and illusory mental constructs wash up on the shores of Full Consciousness.

In your natal chart, Uranus is in aspect to Mercury

Is your mind constantly under tension and do you find it hard to relax nervously? Are you imposing your convictions and certainties, which seem to make it impossible to reply or question anything? Do you refuse to open yourself up to points of view other than your own, and do you deny yourself any curiosity that doesn't fit into a specific, highly systematised field?

Or does your mind work so fast that you get irritated by other people's slow thinking? Are you so excited by your ideas that you rarely take the time to slow down enough to listen to the other person? Does your undifferentiated curiosity prevent you from concentrating on specific subjects?

If so:

- When your ordinary ideas are challenged, open yourself up to wider knowledge.
- To free yourself from someone's intellectual authority, start by opposing them.
- Take the time to understand what the other person is saying. Consider what it brings out in you. Think about what you really think about what the other person is saying. Try to take the initiative by initiating topics of conversation yourself.
- Express your opinion without necessarily pushing others to their limits, listen to better participate in the discussion. Go beyond preconceived ideas and, if necessary, change your way of thinking, analysing and arguing.

In your natal chart, Saturn is in aspect to Mercury

Do you shy away from distractions? Does your complicated reasoning make you unfit for spontaneous communication? Out of an excess of caution and mistrust, do you deny yourself the pleasure of conversation, of making contacts? Are you suspicious of someone more intellectual or competent? Do you find it difficult to express yourself freely for fear of appearing stupid?

Or are you not taking enough time to think things through? Do your demonstrations lack analytical rigour? When you talk to someone, don't you make the necessary effort to step back and calmly examine the depth of your opinions and ideas? Do you throw out a thousand hypotheses without thinking them through? Do you fear a lack of time to learn and are you depressed at the thought that your intellectual life might be disrupted by the weight of your responsibilities?

If so:

- Learn from your experiences to give greater depth and seriousness to your thinking.
- Give up your obsolete opinions.
- Don't get stuck in your usual way of thinking.
- Work intellectually with more determination, follow a rigorous approach.
- Test your ideas and your knowledge to acquire a good intellectual level.
- Draw on your experiences to form your opinions.

In your natal chart, Jupiter is in aspect to Mercury

Do you refuse to open your mind to anything other than what you already know? Are you only interested in what you can actually benefit from? Are your unfounded judgements preventing you from changing your point of view?

If so:

- Be measured in your communications and only make promises when you are sure you can keep them.
- Apply your intellectual skills and make the most of things.

In your natal chart, Mars is in aspect to Mercury

Do you prefer to play mind games rather than engage in sustained activity? Do you prefer to avoid, ironise and shun direct confrontation?

Or are you absorbed in what you're doing, ignoring all forms of communication and distraction? Whether you're on the defensive or on the offensive, aren't you available for relaxed, casual listening? Do you act without worrying about being heard? Do you not take the time to think before you act or speak? When your aggressiveness interferes with your thoughts, are you prone to regrettable language lapses?

If so:

- Have the courage to stand up for what you believe in and inspire others with your ideas.
 - Avoid unproductive arguments and controversies.
 - Assert your ideas without provoking others.
 - Don't give in to your first impulse.
 - Try to listen to the other person to better appreciate the value of their opinions.
 - Assert and defend your points of view and ideas that seem fundamental to you, but do so while respecting the ideas and points of view of others.
- Remain firm in all discussions without becoming locked into a one-sided vision.
- When you take the initiative intellectually, do so in moderation and without spreading yourself too thin.

In your natal chart, Pluto is in aspect to Mars

Do you worry about the idea that your actions and struggles could be thwarted by threatening forces? Do you resist any deep-seated questions that come your way?

Or do you feel unable to express your anger openly? Despite the obvious realities, do you continue to believe in an indecipherable and mysterious hidden order? Do you take refuge in a pessimistic view of life, rejecting the struggles and battles necessary for survival?

If so:

- When you feel fear, look it in the face, note the feelings that accompany it and ask yourself how this fear began. By drawing energy from that fear, you'll notice how it makes you stronger.
 - Engage courageously and without procrastination in the struggles and confrontations that you consider essential.
- Re-examine and rework the way you present yourself.
- Sometimes certain situations arouse a feeling of rage in you and make you furious and vindictive towards someone. Confront any rage by finding ways to channel it. Redirect your healthy aggression towards more constructive outlets or forms of expression.
 - Your need to assert yourself, to act, to fight, to conquer or defend your vital space is so powerful and visceral that it must be satisfied with vigilance.
 - Don't act alone, make allies.
 - Avoid risky situations that are not necessary.

In your natal chart, Neptune is in aspect to Mars

Do you have the impression that you're operating with your head in the handlebars and without a compass, in a kind of nebula? Do you often feel compelled to act against any form of collective solidarity, as if it were a threat to your freedom of action? Are you needlessly tilting at imaginary windmills? Do your attempts to assert yourself end in failure? Do you keep making unrealistic plans? Do you tend to find yourself in situations you didn't consciously desire?

Or is your taste for vagueness, mystery and disguise akin to subtle escapes from necessary conflicts and confrontations? Chained to your illusions, are you neglecting concrete realities?

Does your tendency to indecision and lack of firmness mean that you let yourself be drawn into all sorts of situations?

If so:

- To clarify your feelings of powerlessness, analyse this belief that you are ineffective and naive. It may be useful to explore your childhood to understand the origin of this belief and replace it with another.
- Your confidence is built up step by step, starting by doing something that's easy to achieve, then progressing each time and giving more and more scope to your actions.
- Give life to your states of mind, to your deepest feelings about the beings, things and situations that guide you in everything you do.
- Fight and defend your living space without creating waves.

In your natal chart, Uranus is in aspect to Mars

Do you act and fight without first developing a clear, precise strategy? Does your aggression manifest itself like an electric shock that doesn't know where to go, and if you have no outlet to channel it, do you feel extremely tense? Reactive to all constraints, do you excel in the art of setting yourself impossible challenges? Absorbed by your stereotypical behaviour, are you not responding to the deep-rooted call for radical change?

Or does your need for constant excitement predominate? Does the overriding need for change lead you to always undertake something new without really feeling any satisfaction from what you're doing?

If so:

- Acknowledge the need to change your war strategy from time to time. Break with routine activities that no longer allow you to make progress. Don't wait until you've reached the breaking point to make the necessary decisions. Any change requires courage. Put aside your fears and doubts. By admitting that change is inevitable, you'll be less tense. If new strategies still don't work, analyse the reasons and adopt different strategies.

In your natal chart, Saturn is in aspect to Mars

Do you let yourself get caught up in difficulties, hardships and thankless experiences? Do you withdraw into yourself and lose yourself in the complexity of your reasoning, which inhibits your natural impulses and anger? Are you subjected to insistent pressure from others and remain stuck in your passivity, feeling powerless and intensely frustrated, refusing to fight for your rights? Do you lack confidence and fear rejection when you assert yourself? Do you hesitate to take risks for fear of failure? Blocked or slowed down by your questions, do you find it difficult to act in a timely manner? Instead of moving forward, do you procrastinate, hesitate and ask yourself whether this is the right thing to do, or do you find good reasons for doing nothing and refuse to confront certain situations?

Or do you feel the need to impose yourself, thinking that attack is the best defence? Do you not take enough time and step back before acting? Are you impatient, neglecting all strategy and caution as useless wastes of time? Do you exhaust yourself in various struggles and conflicts without questioning the underlying causes of your behaviour?

If so:

- Examine the obstacles you have encountered and identify how they may have been beneficial.
 - If assertiveness is a problem for you, it's essential to face up to what's really troubling you.
 - The art lies in knowing how much energy you need to achieve your goals.
 - Agree to review your decisions periodically and learn from your mistakes. Adjustments will be necessary.
 - Draw up an action plan, take the necessary steps, take action and observe what actually happens. Take note of the results and adapt your next actions according to the results obtained.
 - Give up activities that no longer bring you satisfaction (which means reviewing some of your decisions).
- Take an in-depth look at activities that are likely to be constructive and worthwhile for the future.
- To combat frustration, ask yourself the following question: How can I do things differently to get better results? Devote yourself, for example, to something more specialised, more structured or more planned.

In your natal chart, Jupiter is in aspect to Mars

Do you tend to avoid confrontation? Do you feel unable to act in accordance with the norms and codes that govern life in a group or society? Do your convictions exalt you so much that they become a universal answer, valid for everyone?

Or do you clash with every conventional order? When you should be negotiating, are you exhausting those around you with your incessant fighting? Do you get angry when you want to assert something, and do you do so excessively? Do you get carried away easily and undertake things recklessly, without any consideration for the consequences of your actions?

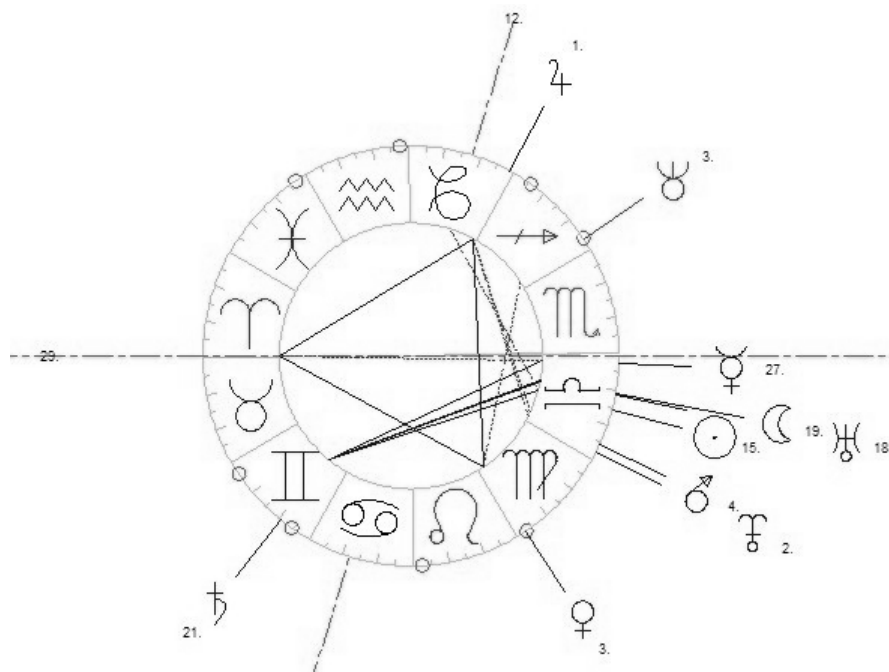

If so:

- Embark on daring ventures and large-scale achievements, but do so in moderation and with due regard for the norms and codes that regulate life in a group or society.
- Be courageous, but try to channel your energy to avoid unnecessary confrontation. Learn to balance your passions and convictions with respect for others and their differences.
- Adopt a more strategic approach to your actions. Take the time to consider the potential consequences before embarking on a venture or confrontation.
- Don't forget the importance of dialogue and negotiation. Patience and listening can often resolve conflicts without resorting to direct or aggressive confrontation.

Study of Monique's natal chart

Her main passion: working

The Sun in 6th House indicates that Monique's primary interest is the world of work and service. Working and improving her living conditions were her main concerns. However, it was not only work as such that interested her, but also the relationships that existed between her and her colleagues or associates (Sun in Libra in 6th House). She has a gift for assimilating into her company, which makes her an ideal partner or collaborator (Libra context). Her conscientiousness is expressed in her concern for diligence, regularity and consistency in her work. However, she may have difficulty adapting to working methods that seem outdated (Uranus-Sun-Moon conjunction).

Her recurring challenge is to succeed in imposing herself and drawing others along with her (Sun and Mars in Libra and Pluto in conjunction with Mars). She has this strength within herself as a dominant Aries sign (drive, positivism about her possibilities, self-confidence), but she lacks the spring to fight in the sphere of work (Mars in Libra in 6th House).

Difficulties and obstacles have a rapid impact on his morale. Nevertheless, his presence of mind, combined with his unfailing strength of concentration (Saturn in Gemini in trine to Mercury), enables him to find a solution to complex situations.

Monique is not destined to build, but rather to help situations mature. Her natural role is not to embark on new tasks, but to perfect what is already in place, thanks to an innate intuition for the future and modernity. His need for novelty is always under tension (Uranus-Moon-Sun conjunction). This constant tension translates into nervousness. Naturally, she propels herself forward, which explains her aspirations ahead of her time (Uranus).

Her challenge is to free herself from what hinders her progress without losing the approval and affection of those around her. She desires everyone's agreement and seeks to give orders with flexibility (Mars in Libra in 6th House). However, she doesn't let anyone get in the way of her objectives (Pluto-Mars aspect).

She finds it difficult to stick to a pre-established programme of action, because of her constant need for new stimuli. She hates routine (Uranus-Moon conjunction). Consequently, her interests will evolve throughout her life, as they did radically in 1992 (transit of Uranus).

The majority of the planets are below the horizon (introverted value) and in the sunset (allocentrism). Six planets occupy the sign of Libra and the 6th House, indicating a life entirely dedicated to work, with a constant concern to be accepted by others.

Its work requires flexibility, conciliation, communication, dialogue and social skills, as well as elegance and friendliness.

The singular charm of a modern woman

The Moon/Uranus conjunction in Libra reflects the image of the modern, independent woman, concerned with being accepted by others and having a singular charm. Her reactions towards others, especially her subordinates, are systematic, as she is preoccupied with objectivity or radical fairness (Uranus-Moon in 6th House). Of course, she has a delicate soul (Moon in Libra) and wishes to react as kindly as possible. However, a reaction of self-defence or fear of her own emotions will distract her from this natural delicacy.

Her soul is deeply wounded when she is rejected. She would like to open up to her work colleagues, to conciliate or negotiate, but she fears losing her independence.

Beware of overwork

The Martian energy of the sign of Libra expresses itself ideally in a friendly, social environment. It never takes action without concern for others and without consulting them. Its actions are guided by its innate sense of proportion, fairness and justice. However, by trying to please everyone, she finds it difficult to make decisions.

When she invests herself fully, it's to create aesthetic appeal and promote harmony around her. The gaze of others is important in everything she does. Anger arises in the face of injustice, but her peaceful, moderate nature prevents her from giving way to violent, primitive reactions. She hesitates for a long time before making up her mind or taking initiatives, but when she considers the cause to be just, she commits herself totally.

It is in the workplace that she must fight to conquer her position and overcome her own personal obstacles (Mars in 6th house). At certain times in her life, she needs to re-evaluate and rework the way she asserts herself, redirecting her healthy aggression towards more constructive forms of expression (Mars/Pluto conjunction), without exhausting herself physically or overloading herself with work. She may sometimes feel very angry towards someone or, at other times, feel depressed, powerless and unable to express this anger openly. Certain situations may awaken feelings of rage buried deep within her, inherited from her childhood. She needs to question her true intentions towards her colleagues and what she wants from her career.

In the face of obstacles and difficulties in the workplace, it is advisable to persevere and avoid sterile power struggles, to fight to defend your position, to ask for help from influential people and to avoid risky situations that are not necessary.

His sense of merit

She is excessively concerned about being accepted in her professional environment, which leads her to undertake excessive tasks without considering the consequences of her actions (Jupiter in aspect with Mars in Libra in the 6th House). Sometimes, she may also scare away colleagues, associates or subordinates by adopting harassing behaviour (Jupiter/Pluto aspect in Libra).

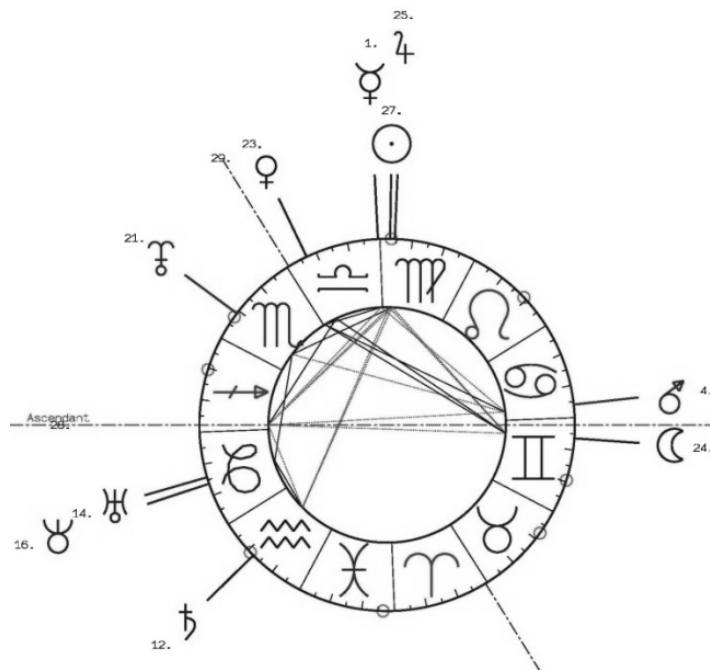

Personal development:

When his work ceases to bring him satisfaction, he is advised to learn from his failures, radically revise his attitudes towards others, deepen his emotional bonds and build more solid relationships that are more in tune with the expectations of his colleagues, associates or subordinates, in order to experience authentic relationships (conjunction Pluto/Mars in Libra in 6th House).

This person is also advised to let go of excessive ideals, to explore his deepest motivations in an optimistic way, to remain open to wisdom, to the international, to other cultures and to philosophy, in order to find answers to his existential questions, while abandoning what is not essential in his life and particularly in his work (Jupiter in Capricorn in 9th House in square aspect with the conjunction Pluto/Mars in Libra in 6th House).

Clarisse's natal chart

We are not made up of a single block, but we are all animated by diverse tendencies, some in agreement with each other, others in contradiction.

A natal chart helps us to understand this diversity. When there are contradictions, we try to see them objectively and lucidly, without judging or favouring one tendency over another. Seeing our contradictions helps us to avoid repressing them, because repression is a source of conflict and negative emotions.

Clarisse, kindness and charm are the qualities of the heart that are most appreciated in you. And it's these qualities that will propel you towards success (Venus in 10th House).

All this diversity of character traits gives us invaluable information for establishing your professional profile. The more you understand who you are, the more likely you are to make the right career choice:

Chancellery secretary
Information and Communication Systems Secretary
Administrative assistant to the chancellery
Foreign Affairs Adviser

Given that the Sun is in the sign of Virgo, in the 9th House and in conjunction with Jupiter and Mercury, find out more from "Bibliothèque sans frontières". Positions such as documentalist assistant, digital project advisor, FLE teacher (French as a foreign language, see Alliance française), cultural assistant, designer of educational programmes or materials, librarian, could be of interest to you.

If you're passionate about health issues in the sign of Virgo, there are careers in the humanitarian field, such as nursery nurse, humanitarian teacher, socio-cultural intervention, socio-educational intervention, humanitarian midwife, or working for the World Health Organisation.

If you're interested in careers in tourism, there are: tourism and cultural engineering consultant, tourism development project manager, business tourism project manager, tourism facilities manager, management of leisure facilities or tourist accommodation.

There are travel-related and more commercial professions such as transit and customs technician, international trade technician, export agent, export sales advisor, import-export technician, export sales assistant, international bachelor in luxury.

Mercury dominates your chart. It occupies the sign of Virgo. Generally speaking, this configuration predisposes you to reading and writing. And if you're passionate about photography, consider becoming a photojournalist.

Study of Juliette's natal chart

Society expects you, Juliette, to reveal your ability to probe and search without prejudice, with poetic innocence. Because that's precisely what society is looking for in you: a person capable of solving any problem, any crisis, capable of analysing situations in depth. Your daily passion for literature, your uncompromising sense of literary elegance, your obsession with detail, your daily impeccability and seriousness are all powerful levers for success (Moon in Virgo and Moon in 10th House). For you, success means finding a balance in your daily life, without surprises or turmoil, wisely confining yourself to the bare essentials to avoid any superfluous needs. Climbing the ladder is a patient obsession for you, a quest for economy of effort and organisational efficiency to curb the unexpected. This line of conduct, inspired by the sign of Virgo, is adopted every day. You've mastered it perfectly. It's even become a veritable survival instinct. And to survive and maintain your reputation, you rely on the qualities of the sign of Virgo every day.

Your daily life reflects your own complexity, a combination of puritanical demands and the most secret intimacy (Pluto's aspect to the Moon). You know all about the secrets of things, people and souls: you're familiar with them. You scrutinise silences and things left unsaid. The temptation is great to use this to assert your power over people and things. If that's the case, you'll exercise it passively. But if you do, you run the risk of becoming embroiled in power intrigues that could damage your reputation.

So your success depends on how you handle this power struggle symbolised by Pluto's aspect to the Moon.

In your theme, we don't see an easy success that comes from luck, but a success fuelled by your magnetism as a transfigured shamanic woman. You recognise yourself very well through the goals you are striving to achieve. They reveal what you think of yourself, who you are as a person, regardless of what you do.

As we've seen, success doesn't come from luck, but from your ability to manage your day-to-day life effectively. However, the theme reveals other powerful levers for success.

Your powerful levers for success

These other levers of success, highlighted by another striking feature of your chart, the planetary concentration in the sign of Capricorn in the 3rd House, are social networks, communication, conferences, frequent travel, movement, contacts, publications, writing...

It's true that your earth element dominant may feel uncomfortable in these areas, which in our present era require a speed, flexibility, adaptability and spontaneity characteristic of the AIR element, a deficient element in your chart. However, your ambition overcomes this deficiency very well, and you meet the challenges you encounter with brio and skill.

You have a subtle, penetrating mind, capable of solving enigmas, abstractions and rebus. You are cautious and far-sighted in your statements, but you also know how to lead debates with verve and humour. This humour respects accepted norms and forms: it seeks to lighten social burdens rather than challenge them in depth. You are relaxed, but you also know how to convince your interlocutors of the validity of your pragmatic certainties, your realistic assertions and your lessons. At the right moment, after listening in silence, you know how to speak, weighing your words and giving them meaning and dimension. To temper the rigour of your reasoning, you have the art of spicing it up with touches of humour perfectly suited to the context.

These dispositions and qualities enable you to meet the challenges inherent in communication and the use of social networks, and to solve problems linked to your environment, your close circle or your neighbours. You have common sense, because your judgement is well balanced between a liberal and a conservative vision. You know how to take a step back. You give yourself every opportunity to learn. You're level-headed and don't talk for nothing. What you say is erudite, researched, thoughtful, well-founded and experienced. You master all subjects, while remaining open to new knowledge.

Your ambition is measured. You have an innate sense of the law. You know what is right and you know how to communicate it. You take great pleasure in studying, reading and writing, and this pleasure remains intact when you share your reading and your knowledge (House 3 occupied by Jupiter and Saturn in Capricorn) (the planetary cluster in Capricorn in House 3, ideal for scientific journalism or for becoming a public writer).

You can assess the level of your knowledge in concrete terms, and see exactly where the barriers are that stand in the way of genuine communication. This encourages you to deepen your understanding of things, to test your knowledge and evaluate its effectiveness in practice. Serious learning, an in-depth understanding of communication mechanisms and adapting to your environment are the main concerns in your life. Your ability to listen is a major asset for success in this type of experience (those of the 3rd House). This quality is reinforced by a natural tendency towards optimism and a constant need to broaden your knowledge, which you know will determine your social progress.

All the efforts you make to build a stable and lasting network are a precious help in activating the social lift (that of the planetary cluster Pluto/Moon in Virgo in House 10) and meeting this need to maintain your reputation as a serious woman, capable of controlling herself and keeping calm, even in crisis situations.

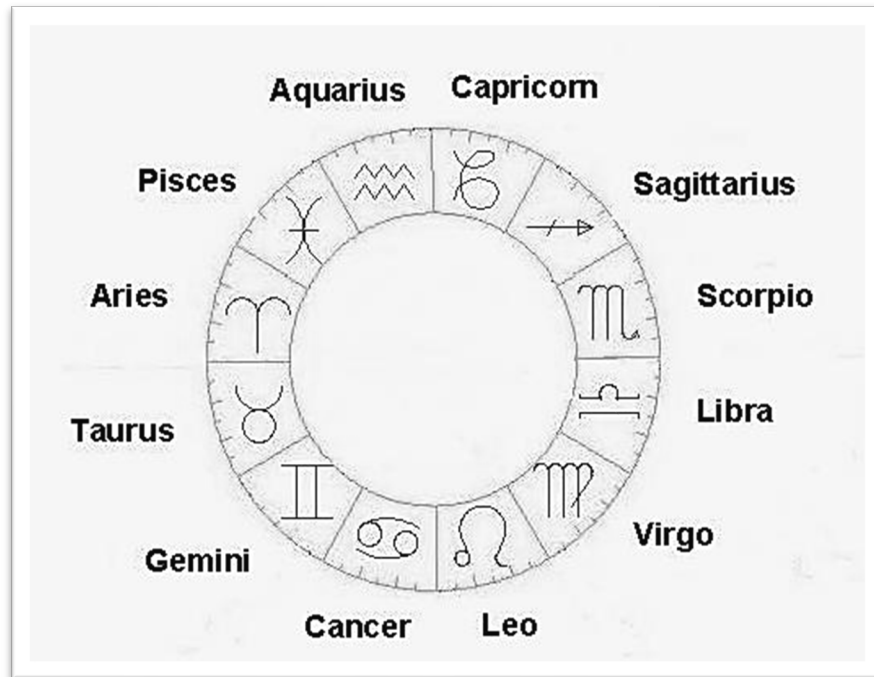

The direction you take, the objectives you pursue, the management of your public life are based on meticulous strategy and reason, responding to an obsessive survival instinct and a hyper-controlled quest for legitimate security. Where you come from, your family environment, your private life, is a more bohemian, more uncertain world, governed by irrationality, emotion and feelings. The attitudes adopted in these two areas of experience are opposite, opposites. One is favoured to the detriment of the other, or held back and curbed in favour of the other. The real challenge is to find the right balance between these two worlds. This means being less meticulous, less intense in your response to what others and society expect of you, and less emotionally dependent on your family.

7. Astrology glossary

7.1 Astral theme: your natal chart

A natal chart is a representation of the sky as it was at the time of an individual's birth. This drawing in the sky (the zodiac) is made up of twelve "signs".

The stars (also known as planets) move around the celestial sphere in the same circle. This trajectory, divided into twelve equal sectors, forms the zodiac with its twelve signs.

7.2 The planets: Your force fields

In addition to the sun sign, the analysis of the birth chart takes into account all the signs occupied by one or more planets. In mindfulness astrology, each planet symbolises a force within itself. This force expresses itself differently according to its position in the sky.

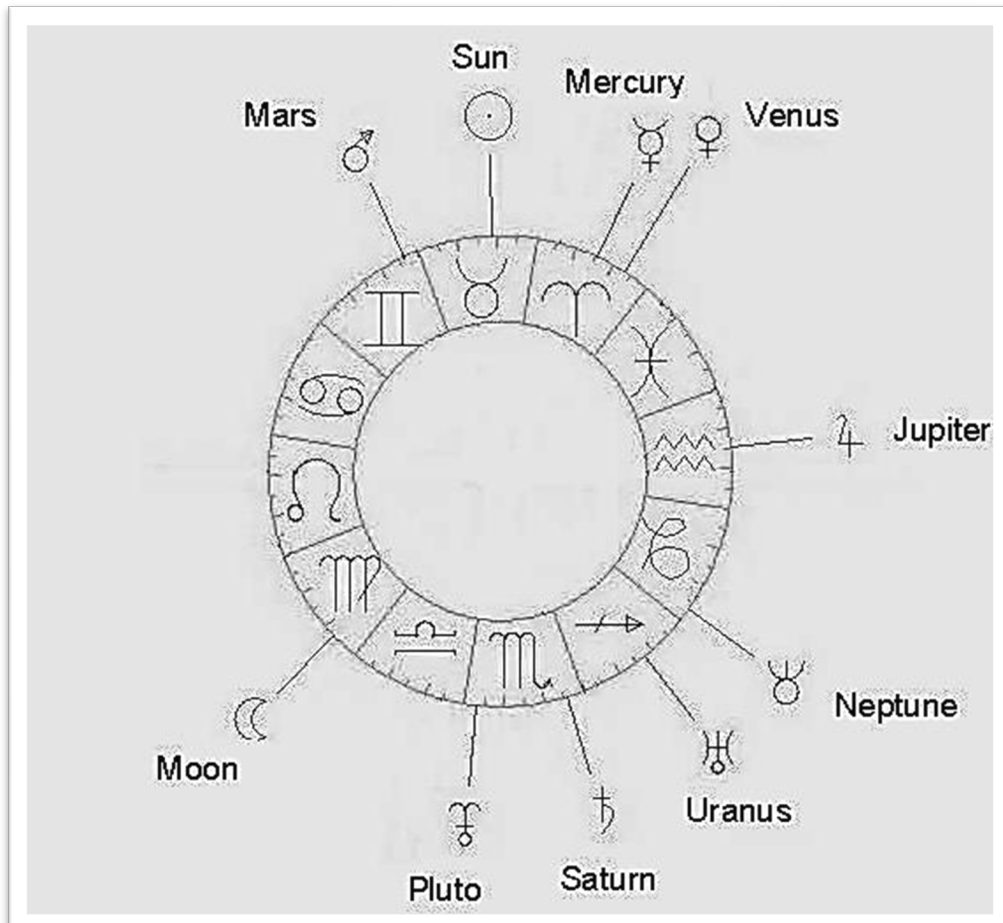

Table of forces and trends represented by each planet

Planets	Strengths and trends
Sun	Life force³ and fulfilment: guide, desire, awaken, express, create, regenerate, radiate, shine, magnify, sublimate, expose, centre, glorify, direct...
Moon	Abandonment⁴: memorise, fertilise, secure, protect, internalise, dream...
Mercure	Mental strength⁵: understand, think, link, reflect, solve, inform, communicate, translate, diversify...
Venus	Force of attraction⁶: love, attract, seduce, charm, beautify, bind...
March	Virile strength⁷: conquer, act, assert, fight, defeat, defend, repel, counter...
Jupiter	A moral force for expansion and growth, a force for cohesion⁸: amplify, increase, optimise, develop, group together, legislate...
Saturn	Stabilising force⁹ (maturity, stability, wisdom, renunciation, etc.): stabilising, perpetuating, toning down, limiting, making responsible, growing up, assuming, renouncing, etc.
Uranus	Force for emancipation¹⁰: Liberate, emancipate, progress, change, single out, break away...
Neptune	Strength of immersion and self-denial¹¹: dissolve, abandon, forgive, immerse, meditate, merge...
Pluto	Investigative power¹²: eliminate, investigate, question, deepen, transform, essentialise, deliver, resurrect...

³ The vital and realising force is our inner guide, our conscious pole, our ability to create, our convictions, our decision-making.

⁴ This force of abandonment to the flow of life responds to our need for security, intimacy, comfort, well-being and tranquillity.

⁵ Mental strength responds to our need to speak, write and inform ourselves, and to the need to think and communicate.

⁶ The force of attraction responds to our need for tenderness and love and the need to seduce in order to provoke a meeting and share the best of ourselves.

⁷ Manly strength responds to our pressing need for action and affirmation, and to the need to conquer and defend our vital space.

⁸ This force of cohesion responds to our need to integrate into society or into a group, to the obligation to conform to the laws and norms that regulate social life or the life of a group. It is also our moral force for expansion and growth, which introduces us to a higher dimension of existence.

⁹ The stabilising force responds to our need to satisfy our ambitions, to assess situations in depth and learn from them, and to the need to know our limits and take responsibility.

¹⁰ This force is capable of breaking any dependency that distracts us from the freedom of our original being. It responds to our imperative need for independence, change and progress.

¹¹ It is the force capable of dissolving everything in our psyche that stands in the way of our return to full consciousness.

¹² It's a force capable of bringing to light our frustrations, past mistakes, psychological wounds, repressed secrets, resistance and all the issues of power and control in our lives.

7.3 The Ascendant: You in relation to others

The Ascendant is not a planet. It is the point on the zodiac that rises on the eastern horizon at the moment of birth.

While the Sun essentially indicates what we are capable of achieving, at the Ascendant we mobilise enough energy to allow us to freely express who we are as a person. Like the Sun sign, the Ascendant is just as decisive in shaping a professional profile.

7.4 The "Houses": Your fields of experience¹³

The intersection of the horizontal axis passing through the Ascendant and the vertical axis passing through the Midheaven defines four zones. Each zone is divided into three parts to form a set of twelve sectors. These sectors, called "houses", are superimposed on the zodiac. Each area of life is associated with an astrological 'house'. Each area of life brings together a range of experiences that all relate to the same general idea (for example, the guiding principle of the 2nd house is to make the most of what we have, our gifts or our money). The houses that concern us are those in our natal chart that are occupied by one or more planets.

Favourite houses or fields also play a role, albeit a lesser one, in the choice of a profession.

¹³The position of the houses depends on the time of birth and the geographical coordinates of the place of birth. The houses are numbered from I to XII and the beginning of each house is called the cusp.

7.5 Interplanetary aspects: your tendencies

The planets are distributed along the zodiac at different distances from each other. These distances are measured in angular deviations, known as aspects.

To simplify things, we say that two planets are in mutual aspect if they are close to each other (this is called a conjunction), if they are in opposite signs (this is called an opposition), if they are approximately 90 degrees apart (this is called a square), or if they are approximately 120 degrees apart (this is called a trine).

Each aspect represents a tendency within the psyche. That's why we take it into account when we study an astral chart and draw up a professional profile.
